Singapore-based Genovate to open training centres

The Singapore-based IT company, GenovateSolutions, is to open 20 training centres and two application development centres in the next one year in India, company's CEO, Mr Anton Ravindran said in Chennai on Monday. He told a press meet that his company had plans to invest $2 million to $3 million Singapore dollars in India for training software personnel. The company on Monday signed an agreement with the Chennai-based IT training company Scallion technologies for providing training in Java, CRM, XML, SCM and wireless technology courses to South Indian students.
