

Indian expansion

IN a move that allows Singapore-based Genovate Solutions to expand its training and software services to India, it has signed Scallion Technologies of Chennai as its first Master Franchisee for South India for training and development services.

The main focus is to provide training in e-commerce, Java technology, XML (extensible markup language), Linux, CRM (customer relationship management) and voice recognition.

As part of the initiative, all Genovate centres will be authorised by CIW of the United States and ASP Linux to offer their global certification programme in e-commerce and Linux. Genovates' training franchise programmes are supported and funded by Singapore's Trade Development Board under the International Franchise Enterprise Programme.
